Creative Leadership and Generational Diversity

Thursday, January 17, 2013

*Presented by Denise Zaporzan
Denise Zaporzan & Associates*

Leading a high performing team is essential to the success of any organization. However, in the presence of today's generational diversity this can be especially challenging. Today's workforce is made up of four generational "cohorts". This diversity, together with differences in attitudes, beliefs, work habits and expectations, has proven to be challenging for leaders. Through adapting leadership style, it is possible to enhance quality and productivity, reduce conflict, and maximize the contribution of all employees resulting in performance throughout the organization.

In this talk you will gain an understanding of each of the generational "cohorts" and leave with some ideas for implementing creative leadership and motivation by exploring ways to re-frame perceptions about these differences.
