The Newfoundland and Labrador Chapter presents:
Operational Efficiencies at Eastern Health
September 19, 2013

12:00 Noon EDT

Featured Speaker: Vickie Kaminski, BScN MBA, President and CEO, Eastern Health

In early 2011, Eastern Health launched an organization-wide effort to change its culture to focus on efficiency as a key performance driver. While the primary focus was to address budget deficits, it was also about a transformation of how the people at Eastern Health work and to build a foundation of how they will work in the future. In this session, Vickie Kaminski, President and CEO, will outline the organizational challenges they faced, how they overcame them, lessons learned and future plans.

Ms. Vickie Kaminski holds the position of President and CEO of Eastern Regional Health Authority in Newfoundland and Labrador.

Eastern Health, the largest health authority in Newfoundland and Labrador, is an integrated authority responsible for a full spectrum of health services for the Avalon, Burin and Bonavista Peninsulas. In addition, tertiary services are provided to all residents of the province.

Ms. Kaminski has more than 35 years of senior executive leadership experience. She is a graduate in nursing from Laurentian University and holds an MBA from Northwestern University in Chicago and York University in Toronto.

Ms. Kaminski is a member of the Canadian College of Health Services Executives, is a surveyor with Accreditation Canada, and participates in a number of provincial and national health services related committees.
