Partnering with Events for Change: Improving Sustainability and Equity at CCHL Conferences

For the first CCHL National Conference, the Canadian College of Health Leaders engaged with Events for Change as an in-kind sponsor. Events for Change is an MCI program that is designed to curate and execute sustainable and equitable events, qualified against a proprietary criterion that was developed by their team of specialists. The College also partnered with Trees for Life to host a fundraiser to plant trees for healthcare heroes. READ MORE

Going nowhere fast: How specialist wait times impact primary care practitioners

With Emily Gard Marshall

Have you or a family member had to endure prolonged wait times to see a medical specialist? Have you gone through the anxiety and uncertainty associated with waiting to see a specialist and wondered whether you or your family member's health condition is getting progressively worse while you wait? Turns out your primary care provider (PCP) shares similar concerns, and the wait time to see specialists impacts their patients as well as their practice. READ MORE
