CCHL President and CEO Alain Doucet Announces Plan to Retire at the End of 2024

Following a successful mandate with the Canadian College of Health Leaders, Alain Doucet, President and CEO, has announced his retirement at the end of this year. Serving in the CEO position since 2018, Alain has made a significant impact on our organization, including modernizing our services and infrastructure, and ensuring the financial sustainability needed to support short and long-term strategic objectives while going through a global pandemic.

Under his leadership, the CCHL has focused on its purpose to 'be the connected community that develops, supports, and inspires health leaders across Canada'. He has led the team through transforming the Fellows and CHE credentials, developing tools and resources to augment the LEADS framework and leadership development services, and has established important alliances with partner organizations, to name a few.

CCHL National Conference 2024

*Early bird deadline: April 19, 2024.
Registration deadline: May 31, 2024.*

We are pleased to present the annual CCHL National Conference on June 2-4, 2024 in Halifax, Nova Scotia. This conference will present an opportunity for a unified and compelling experience of world-class leadership development, mentorship, thoughtful discussions, and more in an atmosphere of celebration, support, and community. Now is the time for all health leaders to COME TOGETHER!

Our national conference in 2023, the first in-person gathering since 2019, reunited 500 health leaders from across Canada and from all aspects of healthcare. As we collectively strive to address the ongoing healthcare challenges and opportunities we face in 2024, leadership has never been more important for our professional relationships, teams, and organizations for ALL healthcare and patient leaders and at all levels of the system.

2024 CCHL National Conversation - Part 1

The purpose of the CCHL's annual National Conversation is to inform, inspire, and align health leadership actions towards solutions for priority challenges facing the health system. What role may health leaders play to retain the current health human resource (HHR) workforce and prepare for the influx of a new and younger workforce, so that the health system is sustainable, and the HHR workforce is engaged, empowered, and retained.
